Subject: xtagged, Andy and Mariah Video

Hi Daryl,

Andy had one of his staff members forward me the text sent from your Blackberry. Andy has not seen nor did he approve the Mariah video that went out early this morning nor has he seen or approved any messages sent from the xtagged@gmail.com. He no longer uses that account. He just became aware of the video and is pretty upset that it went out. Andy has been in Dubai all week; he has caught a bad bug and I'm not certain when he is returning to the states. He sounded awful on the phone. He did ask me to apologize to you on his behalf.

I suppose one could say that the company is suffering from early growing pain. The staff has been advised that nothing is to go out without prior approval from Andy or myself. We are in the process of putting in place formal policies and procedures to ensure that events such as this will not happen again.

Hope all is well.

Love,

Mom

You Have Been removed from Xtagged mail list! Dude my name is Steve as it read at the bottom of your email. And know that i see your from UTAH, I need to no longer wonder why Andy left There! But i will wonder why. Andy wants to buy party Utah, now That i Know who you are, and will see about that, I can build him same site For pennies on the dollar or get one of the many temples out there. and name it Utahwhatever, See its not nice to be a You, Dude This is for charity, you know the thing that partyutah.com could have built from being that all your sites about is bars clubs you know Napkin nights sort of thing. you could have applied free taxi service to your site, where people could have logged on to your site to get free taxi service! OK Now i just figured out why Andy wanted your site. And proper men do not sent emails with swear words, we are a family based company because of the safety aspect of site And Buzz/wiser the commercial that would have aired on your site teaches kids responsibility unlike 1995 Budweiser's that taught kids to remember Budweiser when they turn 21. so just so you know we have been getting positive feedback from this, you are the only negative feedback THX.

P.S ASS-WISER Will be available soon near YOU! Its guaranteed to make you think of other people than yourself!

Good Day Sir Ass-A-Lot!

Steve K co-owner of Xtagged and hopefully soon Buzz/Wiser!

No need to email me back until you have taken your dose of ASS-WISER, Wow i am still in shock of who you are and that this is forrrrr! charity period. God Bless

Hi Daryl,

My name is Steve and I wanted to inform you that you have been removed from the Xtagged site. I am sorry that the video sent earlier interrupted your work day and I apologize for the inconvenience. For your information, we have been getting a lot of positive feedback from the video. As you are probably aware, we are a charity family based company and were looking to advertise on sites such as partyutah.com to teach kids responsibility. This is very different from the 1995 Budweiser commercial that taught kids to remember Budweiser when they turn 21.

Regards,
Steve K co-owner of Xtagged and hopefully soon Buzz/Wiser
